

READING YEAR-VI

Vocabulary and Word Knowledge

- Keep adding new words to what you already know, making your vocabulary bigger and stronger.
- Look at words in groups or bigger parts to understand them better.
- Break down words to see where they come from, including parts from Greek and Latin.
- Learn about the main parts of words and the extra bits added to them, like prefixes at the start or suffixes at the end. This helps you understand lots of words without having to memorize each one separately.
- Discover how some words are made up of smaller parts that have their own meanings, like "bio" meaning "life" in "biology" or "telephone" where "tele" means "distant." This helps you figure out what new words mean by looking at their parts.

Reading Comprehension

- Understand the main idea of a story and what facts or examples support it.
- Identify what might come next in a story or article based on what's already happened.
- Connect what you read to stuff that's happened to you or things you know about.
